Imagine the possibilities.
Dear Families and Friends,

There’s a video of Ava, an orphan born with severe hydrocephaly, that brings me to tears. She’s on the floor in a Chinese orphanage — literally being stepped over as her overburdened caregivers tend to the other children.

It’s gut-wrenching to watch, and it pains me to think about what would have happened to Ava had we not found an amazing, loving family to adopt her. But it’s also a great comfort knowing that your steadfast support reached her in time.

In fact, this past year, you helped us reach thousands of suffering kids whose fate would have been much different without you. Together, we were able to:

- Feed starving school-age children in Ethiopia. We imagined a feeding program that didn’t just take away debilitating hunger, but created a path out of poverty through education and better health. Now, kids once on the brink of starvation are gaining weight — and confidence. Your continued support will help expand this vital program for other boys and girls who never get enough to eat.

- Nurture overlooked orphans in Moldova. We imagined pairing local “Grannies” with kids who have severe medical needs. Today, a little girl unable to walk no longer has to waste away in her wheelchair, never knowing what it feels like to be touched or have the sun on her face. Your generosity means she can have a Granny all her own to talk to, take her outside, and hug her — all so important for her ability to bond and develop.

- Protect children in Guatemala. We imagined safe family homes for orphans where they could flourish instead of being caught in the country’s broken child-welfare system. This coming year will be one of new program development, because too many children who age out of these loving family homes will face dangerous uncertainty. Addressing these needs is vitally important — and achievable because we’ll have you by our side.

- Find loving homes for boys and girls who are harder to place. We imagined permanent homes for children of all ages and needs. This past year, over 80 percent of the children we placed were older, had complex medical needs, or were part of a sibling group. Because of you, we’ll be able to focus on connecting loving families that are ready and willing to adopt with waiting, harder-to-place children.

These are just a few of the successful outcomes you’ve made possible. Behind each one is a simple truth: The most vulnerable children need us. They’ll always need us. And you.

Because if not us, who?

Thank you for your generosity and compassion — and for imagining the possibilities. You were there for every child we placed with a loving family, every family that needed a lifeline out of poverty, and every starving little boy or girl saved from an uncertain future.

I can’t imagine what these kids would have done without you.

Sincerely,

Janice Hoffman
President, CEO, and Adoptive Parent
We are dedicated to the well-being and security of vulnerable and orphaned children worldwide.

There’s nothing more important than making sure vulnerable children are loved, healthy, and secure. We are committed to keeping children in intact families. It has been part of our mission for 40 years, and it is the driving force behind every program and project you generously supported in 2017. In Ethiopia, where we strengthen families, you helped double the number of children who received nourishing meals through our school nutrition program. And you helped Leku Hospital become a teaching hospital of excellence, sharing best practices with five other regional hospitals so that more women and children could be saved.

Leku: A Leading Hospital in Ethiopia

Imagine lifesaving maternal health care for generations to come. Wide Horizons For Children saw the need to bring health care to over a million people in the Sidama region of Ethiopia, and our supporters made it a reality. Previously, there were only two hospitals serving more than 10 million people in this area. The situation was especially grim for expectant mothers, who frequently died in childbirth. In 2017, Leku Hospital was recognized as a leading training and teaching hospital in Ethiopia, providing support for five other hospitals in the region. Today, 3,500 Ethiopians receive lifesaving care at Leku Hospital each month.

Through the generous support of donors and volunteers we are transforming maternal health care in this underserved region.

Tsion: A Dreamer and a College Graduate

Imagine an orphan living in extreme poverty graduating with a college degree. Thanks to her sponsor, that’s the remarkable story of Tsion, a 20-year-old Ethiopian woman who lives in one of the poorest areas of Ethiopia but still made her dreams of becoming a college graduate come true.

Tsion was 8 years old when she lost her parents to HIV/AIDS, turning her life upside down. Her aunt took her in, but struggled to meet their basic needs. Then, Tsion’s life changed. She and her aunt joined the child sponsorship program. They were given food, medical care, school supplies, job skills, and individual counseling. They even learned how to better cultivate their maize and other crops to increase their food supply. And, Tsion got the opportunity to start school. Since then, she has graduated from a technology college. Now, Tsion has a future that she once could only dream about.

Wide Horizons For Children provides further support for improved health care in Ethiopia with quarterly medical missions, where teams of volunteer medical professionals work side-by-side with their Ethiopian counterparts to provide maternal care, offer critical training, and perform lifesaving surgeries. They also bring needed supplies to facilities and work with community health partners and other medical staff to raise the standard of care in the region.

It is from the bottom of my heart that I thank you. All of you had a great role in my life.” — Tsion

What can make a difference for an orphan with severe medical needs? Love, safety, and one-to-one care. But many international orphanages are severely lacking in staff and resources — often at the expense of children who need love the most. This past year, your support helped provide more love to children with complex health issues in Moldovan orphanages through our Granny Program. And in Guatemala, 125 more orphans were safer in 2017, because they were able to live in well-staffed private family orphanages that your giving supports. We also continue to train caregivers and offer other support at our partner orphanages in China, South Korea, and the Philippines.

A New Beginning for Genesis

Imagine a starving, abandoned 2-year-old beating the odds. Genesis was a malnourished toddler living on unsafe streets in Guatemala with her alcoholic mother when she contracted pneumonia. The tiny child was rushed to the hospital, where she fell into a coma for 15 days.

When she was strong enough to leave the hospital, Genesis was placed at Hogar Luz de Maria, one of two Guatemalan homes for orphans funded by Wide Horizons For Children supporters. She was only 14 pounds — half her ideal weight.

Hogar staff provided Genesis with nourishing food, care, and proper medical attention, and she grew stronger every day. Today, Genesis is healthy and hopeful. That’s the promise we work to fulfill for every orphaned and abandoned child — kids like Genesis who deserve a new beginning.

A Granny for Irina

Imagine an orphaned child with medical needs who once couldn’t speak, but is now talking and laughing. That’s the wonderful progress 4-year-old Irina has made, thanks to your support and the caregivers at the Moldovan orphanage where she has lived since she was 4 months old.

Irina was born eight weeks premature and has severe medical needs. She’s struggled to eat, speak, and walk, lagging behind on all of her milestones. Orphans like Irina who have medical needs and are deprived of the loving bond between mother and child are especially vulnerable to developmental delays.

But now, Irina is improving, thanks to the love and attention of her caregivers and her “Granny,” Alla. “Grannies” are local women in Moldova who spend one-on-one time with the same child every day. The Granny Program serves 80 children under age 7 in two Moldovan orphanages: the Municipal Children’s Home and the Republican Children’s Home.

The personal attention orphans like Irina get from their Grannies leads to better language and motor skills and, ultimately, a chance at a better future. The Granny Program is just one example of the ways your support is providing needed care for orphaned and abandoned children.
As opportunities for children to be adopted internationally have dramatically declined, we have dedicated ourselves to helping kids who are harder to place, including those with special medical needs or who are older or part of sibling groups. To accomplish this, we increased our advocacy and offered generous subsidies for waiting children — those who are ready for adoption but have not yet been matched with a family they can call their own.

Ava Finds a Family

Imagining a young girl with severe medical needs finding her forever family. Ava was born with hydrocephaly and other complex health issues. For years, her mobility was limited, and she could do little more than lie on the floor. But at Xinzhou Orphanage in Shanxi Province, China, your support helped caregivers and staff work with Ava and she began to improve. She was given a special chair and received regular physical therapy.

Then, something wonderful happened: Ava was adopted by a loving family from the United States, thanks to a special financial subsidy that your gifts help fund.

Today, Ava is a happy, well-adjusted first-grader. Though she continues to use her wheelchair, she is working hard at walking. Her mother reports that Ava is “over the moon.” Looking at Ava’s spirited smile, it’s hard to imagine what could have happened to her without your generous support. Now, thanks to you, Ava is living her dream of being loved, having a family of her own, and going to school.

Subsidies Put Adoption Within Reach

Adopting a child is a significant financial undertaking for most families, but subsidies can remove financial barriers for families that are willing and ready to adopt. Subsidies also enable and encourage diverse families to adopt and support the placement of children with severe medical needs as well as sibling groups. In 2017, through the generous support of our donors, 70 children found their forever families.

We know that by helping others with the financial aspect of adoption, they can experience the same happiness and joy that we have been able to enjoy.”

— David Correia, Adoptive Parent and Generous Supporter
You help strengthen the deep family connections made during adoption — and long afterward.
Adoption is a lifelong journey that constantly tests and strengthens bonds and presents new and profoundly rewarding experiences. Because of that, with your help, we continue to work with families long after the arrival of their child, offering everything from consultation and coaching to reunion services and support for travel back to birth countries.

A Journey Back Home for Kawan

Imagine traveling across the world to find your birth mother — and coming home with an entire family. Kawan was adopted from Korea at 3 years old and grew up in a loving family in Massachusetts. When she became an adult and a mother herself, she felt a longing to establish a connection with her own birth mother. With the support of her adoptive parents, Kawan reached out to Wide Horizons For Children for help contacting her birth mother. Generous support from donors like you allows us to help adoptees navigate this complex and emotional process. In Korea, after Kawan and her birth mother reunited, they spent several days getting to know each other. That's when Kawan also learned she had six more members of her biological family anxious to meet her.

“That was the most amazing part of the trip,” Kawan says. “She hadn’t mentioned that her family knew about me, let alone accepted me and wanted to meet me. I had come with the expectation of meeting my birth mother ... and instead got an entire family!”

CONTINUING THE ADOPTION JOURNEY

Post-adoption services include:
• Short-term parent consultation and counseling
• Resource and referral assistance
• Travel support to birth country
• Search and exploration of adoption history
• Facilitated reunions
No one should go through an unexpected pregnancy alone. It’s a time filled with intense, complicated emotions. Thankfully, you’re there to help with resources women need to make informed decisions during one of the most life-altering events they may ever face. This past year, your support allowed us to counsel more expectant women, particularly those impacted by substance abuse or homelessness.

Opioid Addiction: A Growing Crisis

Imagine an opioid-addicted expectant parent getting the help they need. The opioid addiction has reached dangerous new levels in the United States. Wide Horizons For Children is facing this challenge head-on with comprehensive, free resources for expectant parents, made possible by your generous support. These resources include education, counseling, and referrals to medical professionals.

Prenatal use of opioids immeasurably complicates both a pregnancy and the decision-making process. Babies born addicted require longer hospital stays, and experience withdrawal and neonatal abstinence syndrome. Our approach first addresses the underlying addiction by providing referrals for treatment.

Addiction also makes consistent interactions difficult for those interested in open adoptions. We support child visits by biological parents who are clean, and we make every effort to facilitate a path to recovery.

Our goal for every parent facing an unplanned pregnancy is to give them the support they need to make informed decisions that they can be comfortable with for a lifetime.

Most of the mothers we work with come from traumatic backgrounds and are struggling with addiction, poverty, mental health issues, or simply a nonexistent support system. To assist these vulnerable mothers in making a decision about their pregnancy that they will be at peace with for a lifetime, to get them access to services they so desperately need, such as medical care and housing, and to ensure the safety of these fragile new lives, whether it be through adoption or strengthening the expectant family, is deeply gratifying work.”

— Paula Wisnewski, LICSW Manager of Expectant/Birth Parent Services, Wide Horizons For Children
You make sure expectant parents never have to face their journey alone.
In 2017, we saw growth in overall revenue, inclusive of fundraising and client service fees. Expenditures increased with planned critical investments in core systems, staff, and resources necessary to position us for future growth. You ensure the neediest children get vital, one-to-one care — and lots of love.
The work we do is often the last hope for the children we serve. Though these children face the most desperate conditions, we imagine better for them — and make it happen — thanks to your amazing support. With you by our side, we’ll always be there to give them a better tomorrow and a chance at life. Thank you.
